Culture = behavior

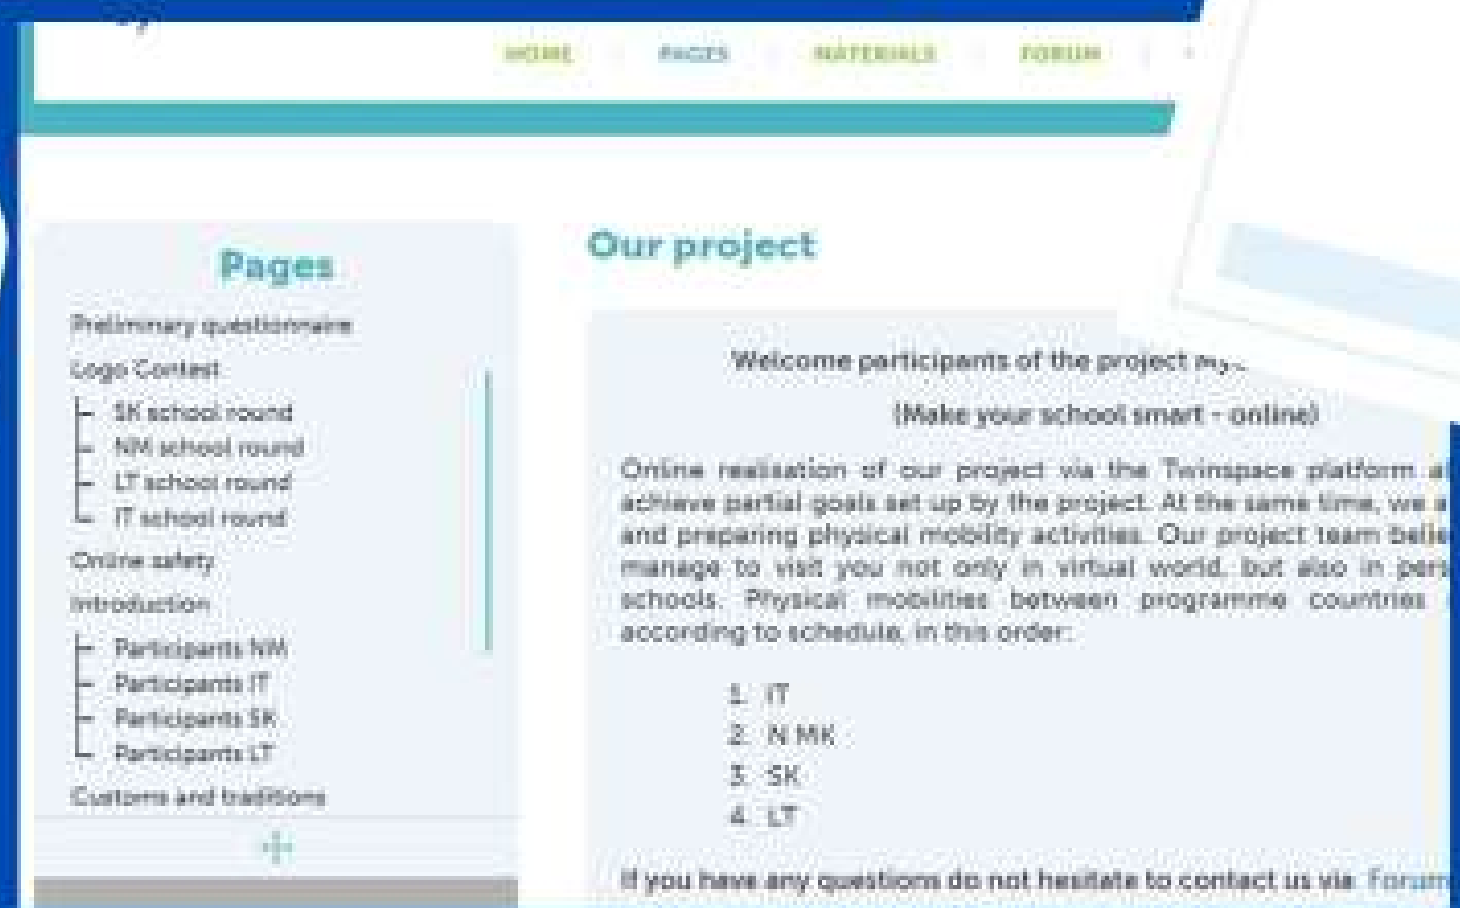

Sub-cultures form through rewards

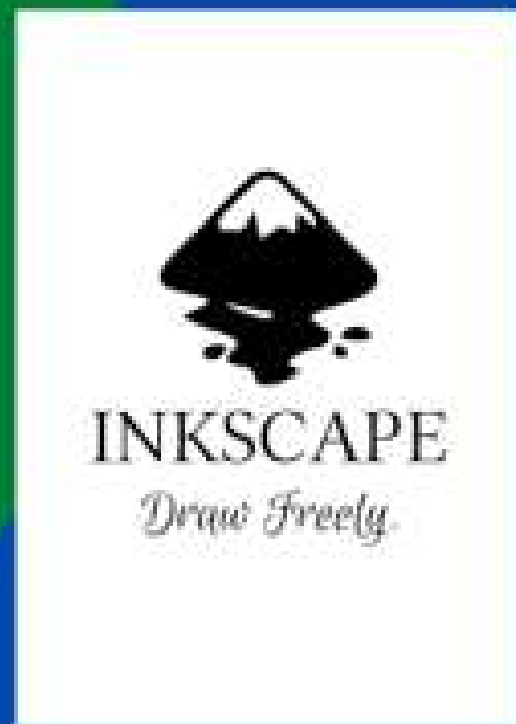

Culture is learned through interaction

People shape the culture

Culture is difficult to change

Culture is negotiated

Applications

TIKSLAS: pagerinti mokinių motyvaciją, mokymosi pasiekimus ir tarpkultūrinį dialogą.

Uždaviniai:

- 1. Įtraukti mokinius į rezultatų gerinimo procesą ir motyvuoti mokinius (apie 40 proc. tikslinės grupės rezultatų gerės);
- 2. Ugdyti mokinių įgūdžius – matematika, IKT, kompiuterinis raštingumas, kritinis ir kūrybiškas mąstymas, asmeniniai ir socialiniai gebėjimai;
- 3. Plėtoti tarpkultūrinį supratimą ir toleranciją apie kitas kultūras;
- 4. Tobulinti bendradarbiavimo įgūdžius, ypač anglių (156 dalyvių šie įgūdžiai gerės);
- 5. Plėtoti europietiškas vertybės ir skatinti supratimą apie europietiškus piliečius;

AIM: to improve students' motivation, involvement and school results and to promote intercultural dialogue

The objectives we envisage are:

- 1. involving students in their own learning with a view to attaining better results and becoming more motivated; (at least 40 percent from the target group will improve their school results);
- 2. developing students' transversal skills - numeracy, computer literacy, critical and creative thinking, personal and social capability; (at least 30 percent of students will improve these skills);
- 3. developing intercultural understanding and acceptance; (at least 60 percent of students will have better knowledge of other cultures);
- 4. developing communication skills in English; (the 156 participants, students and teachers, will improve communication skills in English);
- 5. promoting European values and develop cohesion among European citizens; (measurable by analysing students' and Teachers' attitudes to other cultures, as seen in the post-LTTA feedback)
